ANIMART's veterinary staff offers a broad spectrum of advanced care for your cat, dog, pocket or exotic pet including physical exams, diagnostics, surgical procedures, and nutritional and husbandry counseling.

Wellness Exams
Regular wellness exams evaluate your pet’s general health and help identify any problems before they become serious illnesses. A wellness exam includes a good history of your pet and a complete head to toe physical exam. Any abnormalities may require additional tests to diagnose a specific health problem.

Medical Exams
Any subtle change in your pet’s behavior or appearance may indicate illness. Often, early detection and treatment of medical problems offer the best chance of success.

Spays and Neuters
ANIMART offers spays and neuters for puppies and kittens starting at 4 months of age. Early spay and neuter provides many benefits: less stress to the pet, reduces hormonally driven behaviors, lowers risk of certain diseases and provides better control of pet overpopulation.

Vaccinations

Many dangerous and infectious diseases can be prevented or lessened in severity with a proper pet vaccination program. No vaccine is 100% effective, but regular vaccinations are the most effective way to prevent such diseases.

- Rabies: Always fatal, transmitted in saliva of rabid animals. May also be transmitted to humans.
- Canine Distemper: Combination vaccine protects against often fatal infections of Distemper, Adenovirus, Parainfluenza and Parvovirus.
- Bordetella: A common cause of “kennel cough,” Bordetella is a severe but rarely fatal respiratory disease.
- Leptospirosis: A flu-like and potentially deadly disease spread in urine of infected animals, causes kidney and liver damage. May also be transmitted to humans.
- Lyme: Carried by ticks, Lyme causes severe arthritis, fever, lethargy and can lead to organ disease.
- Feline Leukemia: Most common in cats with opportunities to get outdoors; weakens the immune system, can cause tumors and often death.
- Feline Distemper: Distemper combo includes Feline Rhinotracheitis, Calici, Panleukopenia and Chlamydia. These are very contagious and often can be fatal.
- Ferret Distemper: Protects ferrets 8 weeks and older from the Distemper virus, which is fatal in ferrets.

Vaccination Clinics

Protect your pets from common viruses with annual vaccinations at our walk-in clinics. No appointments! No office visit fees!

Heartworms are the most life-threatening of the common canine parasites. They live in a dog’s heart and surrounding blood vessels and can cause heart disease, organ failure and death. Heartworms are spread by mosquitoes, so any dog or cat may be at risk.

Since there are often no early signs of heartworm disease, it is vital to have your pet tested; a procedure that is quick and easy. Offered during our vaccination clinics, dogs should be tested for heartworm infection each year and given regular prevention.

For Vaccination Clinic dates and times call 608.242.2140 and select Option 2, or visit www.AnimartPetStores.com.

Pet Dentals

Eighty percent of dogs and cats over three years of age have dental disease and are vulnerable to pain, bad breath and tooth loss.

Chronic infections can spread to the heart, liver, lungs and kidneys, where they can do even more damage.

Professional dentals include anesthesia, scaling and polishing. Pre-anesthetic blood tests, extractions, antibiotics and pain medications are also available for additional fees.

To help keep your pet’s teeth healthy between cleanings, provide your pet with:
- Dental Chews and Toys
- Hard Food and Treats
- Regular Tooth Brushing

Holistic Treatment Options

Holistic care looks at the whole pet, including diet, nutritional supplements, preventive care, parasite control, grooming, and exercise. By combining both conventional therapies and complementary therapies such as acupuncture, herbal medicine, nutritional supplementation and homeopathy, we can help the pet heal itself and stay healthy.

Microchipping

A small microchip in your pet can help you reunite if your furry friend is ever lost. A simple scan of your pet’s chip will pull up your information in a national database. Once your pet is registered with us, your pet is registered for life! No annual fees!
